1 Aims

Our school aims to meet its obligations under the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) by having due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate discrimination and other conduct that is prohibited by the Equality Act 2010
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it
- Foster good relations across all characteristics – between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it

Our school aims to promote respect for difference and diversity in accordance with our core values, as set out in the RTS Haka. At The Richmond upon Thames School (RTS), we strive to ensure that all students are valued as individuals, who are recognised for their talents, fully included within the school community and provided with every opportunity to achieve 'excellence'. We expect all students to emerge as confident, resilient individuals, who can build positive relationships and demonstrate commitment in everything they do.

We communicate our core beliefs as six guiding values:

- Community
- Participation
- Confidence
- Readiness
- Kindness
- The power of effort

4. Eliminating discrimination

- The school is aware of its obligations under the Equality Act 2010 and complies with non-discrimination provisions.

- Where relevant, our policies include reference to the importance of avoiding discrimination and other prohibited conduct.
- Staff and trustees are regularly reminded of their responsibilities under the Equality Act – for example, during meetings. Where this has been discussed during a meeting it is recorded in the meeting minutes.
- New staff receive training on the Equality Act as part of their induction, and all staff receive refresher training within the academic year
- The school has a designated member of the senior leadership team who is responsible for monitoring equality issues and an equality link trustee.
- They regularly liaise regarding any issues and make senior leaders and trustees aware of these as appropriate.
- The school's Code of Conduct for staff and Behaviour for Learning policy for students outline the expected behaviours.
- Section 1, 'The Aims' of this Equality Information and Objectives Policy, outlines our commitment to eliminating any form of discrimination, harassment, victimisation, or any other conduct that is prohibited under the Act.
- Assemblies led by staff, students, and visiting organisations raise students' awareness about differences and protected characteristics such as disability, racism, and sexual orientation.
- Protected Characteristics awareness is carefully mapped across our curriculum, in our Personal Development, Spiritual, Moral, Social, and Cultural (SMSC) Curriculum Map, and also actively promotes fundamental British values. For example, students explore issues such as civil rights and equality between human beings. Also, through activities such as our Holocaust Memorial Assemblies, LGBTQ+ Awareness Month focus in school and 'Pride Hub', Dyslexia awareness activities, and visual displays around the school, as well as visits to the 'Black Cultural Archives' and visiting speakers during Black History Month, we actively teach and promote the elimination of discrimination. While our whole school guided-reading literature choices encourage students to examine themes such as racism, gender and ethnicity ('Sawbones') and spiritual themes of sacrifice and redemption ('The Girl of Ink and Stars')
- We have been awarded the Race and Conscious Equality (RACE) Charter Mark - Silver

5. Advancing equality of opportunity

As set out in the DfE guidance on the Equality Act, the school aims to advance equality of opportunity by:

- Removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people that are connected to a particular characteristic they have (e.g. students with disabilities, or gay students who are being subjected to homophobic bullying)
- Taking steps to meet the particular needs of people who have a particular characteristic (e.g. enabling Muslim students to pray at prescribed times)
- Encouraging people who have a particular characteristic to participate fully in any activities (e.g. encouraging all students to be involved in the full range of school societies)

In fulfilling this aspect of the duty, the school will:

- Analyse data by different characteristics to determine strengths and areas for improvement, implement actions in response and publish this information
- Make evidence available identifying improvements for specific groups (e.g. declines in incidents of homophobic or transphobic bullying)
- Report and analyse further data about any issues associated with particular protected characteristics, identifying any issues which could affect our own students

6. Fostering good relations

The school aims to foster good relations between those who share a protected characteristic and those who do not share it by:

- Promoting tolerance, friendship, and understanding of a range of religions and cultures through different aspects of our curriculum. This includes teaching in PRE, citizenship, and PSHE education, but also activities in other curriculum areas. For example, as part of teaching and learning in English/reading, students will be introduced to literature from a range of cultures. This is also firmly established throughout the Personal Development and SMSC Curriculum Map.
- The curriculum is supported by resources that reflect the diverse communities of modern Britain. Our curriculum promotes tolerance and friendship and the understanding of a range of religions and cultures. It promotes and supports students to be accepting of one another's lifestyles and beliefs.
- We have developed links with people and groups who have specialist knowledge about particular characteristics, which helps inform and develop our approach.
- Holding assemblies dealing with relevant issues. Students will be encouraged to take a lead in such assemblies and we will also invite external speakers to contribute.
- Speakers in school assemblies have promoted positive images of equality, including the whole school International Women's Week programme which celebrated women's contributions in STEM and internationally.
- Working with our local community. This includes inviting leaders of local faith groups to speak at assemblies, and organising school trips and activities based around the local community.
- Encouraging and implementing initiatives to deal with tensions between different groups of students within the school. For example, our school council has representatives from different year groups and is formed of students from a range of backgrounds who lead on a range of committees to promote inclusion such as community and wellbeing committees, as well as equality, diversity, and inclusion ambassadors. All students are encouraged to participate in the school's activities, such as sports clubs, Bebras Challenge, School Production, Music and Drama Showcases as well as Maths Challenges. We also work with parents to promote knowledge and understanding of different cultures.
- The 'RTS Her Hub' has been launched under the equality, diversity and inclusion umbrella and sits alongside the Be Her Lead programme to extend forums and opportunities to support the student voice for girls.
- The school joined the 'Be Her Lead programme', an initiative focusing on empowering women in teaching to build resilience, foster well-being, and raise the aspirations of girls in their schools via workshops, training network projects, and external guests to meet with the girls.
- Harlequins FC have led rugby coaching for girls, and the RTS Girls' rugby team successfully won the Borough and London regional Rugby League competition and qualified to represent London at a national Rugby League competition held in Leeds. Our girls' teams have continued to be successful on the pitch including U16 Middlesex Girls Rugby Cup Winners, U12 - Girls runner-up Middlesex, Y7 and Y8 girls Silver medalist in Borough football, a female student ranked 13th out of 180 runners Borough X-Country and 3 Y11s have been selected to play for Middlesex county for Rugby.
- STEM trips have taken place to raise the profile of STEM careers for girls. Research project with NACCE, The Education Technology Association, and the Department for Education on gender-based participation in Computer Science designed to explore and change girls' perceptions of Computer Science.
- Students with SEND are fully integrated into all aspects of school life. SEND students participate in School borough sports tournaments, Sports Day and all school wide trips, as well as SEND specific trips, activities and enrichment opportunities where appropriate. The assemblies programme includes topics such as Disability History Month and Children's Mental Health Week.
- Appropriate accessible equipment is available in all classes and there are dedicated resources including dyslexia-friendly fiction texts in the school library.

- A Safer Internet use programme to coincide with Safe Internet Day, included visitors from Parent Zone and YouTube who worked with a cohort to promote more positive use of the internet.

7. Equality considerations in decision-making

The school ensures it has due regard to equality considerations whenever significant decisions are made.

The school always considers the impact of significant decisions on particular groups. For example, when a school trip or activity is being planned, the school considers whether the trip:

- Cuts across any religious holidays
- Is accessible to students with disabilities
- Has equivalent facilities for boys and girls

The school keeps a written record (known as an Equality Impact Assessment) to show we have actively considered our equality duties and asked ourselves relevant questions. This is recorded at the same time as the risk assessment when planning school trips and activities. The record is completed by the member of staff organising the activity and is stored electronically with the completed risk assessment.

8. Equality objectives

Objective 1: Opportunities for girls, particularly disadvantaged girls, to develop their talents and interests to an exceptionally high quality.

Why we have chosen this objective:

- We have chosen this objective to address the disparities faced by disadvantaged girls in the final GCSE outcomes. By delivering these opportunities at an exceptionally high quality, we aim to empower these girls, enhance their skills, and support their personal growth.

To achieve this objective we plan to:

- Provide tailored mentorship programmes and support networks for disadvantaged girls to nurture their talents and interests.
- Offer grants, and resources to ensure equal access to extracurricular activities, workshops, and training programmes.
- Collaborate with industry professionals and experts to deliver high-quality workshops, seminars, and events that cater specifically to the needs of disadvantaged girls.
- Establish partnerships with organisations and sponsors to expand the range of opportunities available and enhance the overall quality of the programmes.

Progress we are making towards this objective:

- Plans for mentorship programmes are underway, with a focus on providing comprehensive support. Evaluation metrics are being developed to measure the impact of these initiatives on the development of talents and interests among disadvantaged girls.

Objective 2: Absence rates for Special Educational Needs (SEN) and Pupil Premium Grant (PPG) recipients are in line with or below national averages.

Why we have chosen this objective:

- We have chosen this objective to address the disparities in absence rates among students with SEN and PPG recipients. By aligning or reducing their absence rates to national averages, we aim to ensure equitable access to education and support the wellbeing of all students.

To achieve this objective we plan to:

- Implement targeted support programmes for SEN students and PPG recipients to address underlying factors contributing to their higher absence rates.
- Provide additional resources and interventions such as counselling services, mentorship programmes, and academic support tailored to the specific needs of these student groups.
- Collaborate with parents, teachers, and external agencies to create a supportive network that monitors and addresses attendance issues promptly.
- Conduct regular data analysis and monitoring to identify trends, implement early interventions, and track progress towards reducing absence rates.

Progress we are making towards this objective:

- We have conducted a comprehensive analysis of attendance data for SEN and PPG to identify patterns and factors influencing their absence rates.
- Interventions such as the Harlequins Engage PPG mentoring programme, Y9 SEN one-to-one impartial careers guidance (EDT), one-to-one targeted tuition in Maths, as well as additional resources, are being developed and implemented within the whole school PPG Strategy. Collaboration with stakeholders is ongoing to ensure a coordinated approach in addressing attendance challenges among these student groups.
- Monitoring mechanisms are being established to track improvements in attendance rates and align them with or below national averages. We have a proactive approach towards addressing the attendance of SEN and PPG students, with current rates exceeding the FFT Aspire national data for SEN and PPG students.

Objective 3: To reduce the number of racist incidents reported in the school by implementing comprehensive personal development programmes, which foster a culture of inclusivity and diversity, and promote respectful dialogue among students and staff.

Why we have chosen this objective:

- We have chosen this objective to create a safe and inclusive environment for all students and staff, where racism is not tolerated, and everyone feels respected and valued.

To achieve this objective we plan to:

- Work closely with Curriculum Leaders and the Student Leadership group to develop programmes of learning and events for students and staff to raise awareness and promote understanding.
- Provide CPD for staff to refine the reporting system for incidents of racism to ensure they are addressed promptly and effectively.
- Implement cultural events and activities to celebrate diversity and foster a sense of belonging among the school community.
- Collaborate with community organisations and experts in the field of diversity and inclusion to enhance our approach.
- Apply for the Race Charter Mark.

Progress we are making towards this objective:

- The school has established clear and effective procedures for students to report concerns related to bullying, aggression, discrimination, or derogatory language, including racist incidents. Students are well-informed on how to utilise platforms such as Tootoot, alongside speaking to staff in school, ensuring that they can report concerns discreetly and securely. The Student Leadership group has also initiated additional ideas, such as a Kindness box and the Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Values Ambassadors planning for an EDI Forum. This system has been validated by an external review of safeguarding in Autumn 2023, which noted that students feel secure in knowing what to do if they have concerns about a friend, and they trust and understand their teachers.

9. Monitoring arrangements
